

Contribution Brief

Thank you for your interest in contributing to the narration of the history of our National Museum under the muzium memory project!

No story is too small – we welcome you to reminisce on (e.g.) your very first visit to the Museum, an artefact you found intriguing, an exhibition that enthralled you or even fond romantic dates and family outings that you cherish.

Images are central in modern story telling – do share your old photographs together with your reminiscences. While we generally prefer that your contributions be a combination of text and visual, in the event that you are not able to do so, we are more than happy to accept text-only submissions.

About the Project

Initiated by Museum Volunteers, JMM, this project is an effort to tell the story of the National Museum of Malaysia in a community-centric way through the gathering of public memories about the Museum. Selected stories will be shared on our social media (Instagram and Facebook) and our blog.

We are mainly looking for old photographs or videos related to Muzium Negara including those on temporary exhibitions organised by the museum. We prefer these to be older than ten years, the older the better.

In addition, if you happen to possess audio recordings or any other items that share a connection to Muzium Negara's past such as personal journals, posters, memorabilia etc., you are more than welcome to share these with us as well.

Terms and Conditions

Please note that by submitting your photographs and stories, you grant Museum Volunteers, JMM, the right to reproduce and publish them on platforms managed by the volunteers for educational and promotional purposes without prior notice.

You will be properly credited for the contribution. Your material will only be used in Museum Volunteers' related activities and will not be shared with any third parties.

In addition, please note the following:

- All photographs must be of at least 300dpi in resolution and captioned together with the date the photograph was taken.

- There is no word limit for text-only submissions but they should come with a title.

- Please provide a credit or attribution line, which we will use to credit you should we use your contribution.

- You must have sharing rights to the photographs, stories and any materials you contribute.

- While you retain the copyright to your material, the Museum Volunteers, JMM reserves the rights to publish the materials without prior notice.

- Not all submissions will be published immediately but they will be retained in our database and they may be published in the future to enhance our stories.

- We reserve the right not to publish any material not deemed suitable.
